

Controlling for a confounder removes bias; controlling for a mediator or collider creates it

